Nantucket Coffee Roasters

Discover the pleasure of a delicious cup of island-roasted coffee. Nantucket has a long history of appreciating coffee. In 1873, a British bark bound for Boston from Rio de Janeiro ran aground near Miacomet Pond on Nantucket with a cargo of 4,000 bags of coffee. As the passengers looked on, 1,000 bags were off-loaded to refloat the vessel and taken to Straight Wharf. We at Nantucket Coffee Roasters love great coffee. After years of searching for the perfect cup, we realized that roasting only the best beans and brewing them fresh could satisfy our desire for a quality coffee experience. We personally choose from the world's best coffees and roast them here on Nantucket Island.

Nantucket Sailor's Valentine Kits

Sailor's Valentines originated in the mid 1800's in the West Indies Island of Barbados, a port of call for American and English ships. Sailors would buy or trade items for these nautical tokens as romantic gifts to take home to their loved ones after their long voyages at sea. The Valentines were made in octagonal wooden shadow boxes from the local shells. Traditional designs include hearts, flowers, rosettes, pictures and sentiments such as, "To My Sweet-Heart" and "Forget-Me-Not". Our valentines are simple and fun to create! We provide all the supplies needed to create a beautiful Sailor's Valentine. No two designs are exactly alike because of the uniqueness of each shell. Your personal valentine will be a one of a kind. All of our designs are original, based on the traditional designs of the mid 1800's. As a gift, a Sailor's Valentine will always be a treasure that is enjoyed for years to come.

Nantucket Charm

In addition to the natural beauty of Nantucket's beaches, moors and coastline, the Island's rich history is attractively and meticulously well-preserved. Right off the ferry, one is struck by the charm of the cobblestone streets and beautifully-maintained brick homes of Nantucket Town, including exquisite Nantucket vacation rentals.

And although special places like Siasconset (more familiarly known as 'Sconset) or a sunset in Madaket also shouldn't be missed, there are three terrific sights to enjoy right in Town:

The Whaling Museum

For nearly 100 years – from the mid-1700's to the late 1830's – Nantucket was the whaling capital of the world with as many as 150 ships making port in

Nantucket Whaling Museum

Nantucket during its peak. During the period 1820 to 1840, Nantucket's population swelled to 10,000 due to the industry created by whaling, making it the third largest city in Massachusetts. Only Boston and Salem were larger.

The whaling ships of Nantucket actually sailed all around the world when the local whaling waters were depleted.

They were looking for right whales and if possible sperm whales. Right whales were valued because they were slow swimmers, making them easier to catch, and they floated high out of water, making them easier to tow back to the ship. Sperm whales were harder to catch but each held a reservoir of valuable spermaceti oil in their head. They brought prosperity to the small island due to the demand for whale oil and bone for the making of scrimshaw.

In 1846, the "Great Fire" destroyed the wharves and much of the business district in the town of Nantucket. This event, along with the dwindling demand for whale oil, the silting-up of the harbor, and the California Gold Rush in 1849, all contributed to the end of the whaling-era prosperity.

The Nantucket Historical Association's Whaling Museum was first established in 1929.

After the Great Fire, the Mitchell family built the structure as a candle factory. Candles were made from the oil pressed from whale blubber and spermaceti oil found in whale heads. Two years later, it was purchased by local businessmen, William Hadwen and Nathaniel Barney, who continued to use it to manufacture candles. For about a dozen years beginning in 1860, the building was used for warehouse space before being reconverted into offices for the New England Steamship Company in the 1870's. In 1929, the building was purchased by the Nantucket Historical Association, and the Whaling Museum was created.

In 2005, the Museum was fully restored and, in 2008, became accredited by the American Association of Museums. While the centerpiece of the Museum is the complete skeleton of a 46 foot bull sperm whale suspended from the ceiling, the Museum also houses a large collection of whaling artifacts and memorabilia including longboats, harpoons, and scrimshaw.

The museum's original use as a candle factory is well represented with exhibits about that trade as well. The exhibited beam press is the only one in the world still residing in its original location. Other exhibits include an 1849 Fresnel lens used in the Sankaty Head Light and the restored workings of the Nantucket 1881 town clock.

The Maria Mitchell Observatory

On a night in October of 1847, a woman stood on the roof of the Pacific National Bank near her Nantucket home with a telescope. This was nothing new as Maria Mitchell had, since childhood, a love for astronomy. At age 12, she and her father had pinpointed the location of their Nantucket home by observing a solar eclipse. So adept was Maria at astronomy that whaling captains trusted her to plot the navigation for their whaling journeys. Throughout her young womanhood, she acquired astronomical equipment and conducted observations.

The Maria Mitchell Observatory

But on this October night, she would discover a comet that didn't appear on any astronomical charts. The comet was named Comet Mitchell 1847VI. This discovery brought Maria fame, and the following year she became the first woman to be appointed to the Academy of Arts and Sciences.

The Maria Mitchell Association was founded in 1902, and in 1908 the Maria Mitchell Observatory was built next door to her Vestal Street Nantucket home. This observatory, with its newly restored dome, is actually one of two observatories maintained by the Association – the other being the Loines Observatory west of town. The Loines Observatory actually has two domes, one built in 1968 and the other in 1998.

The observatories are open for regular public tours, programs, and lectures and also host several special events during the year. View a scale model of the solar system, learn how to operate a sundial, and observe the night sky. For more information or to view information on each month's night sky, visit their website.

The Wharf Area Shops and Galleries

Having fallen into disuse during the Depression following the demise of Nantucket's whaling industry, Nantucket's wharves and cottages sat empty and derelict. In 1920, summer visitor Florence Lang, an amateur artist who lived in Montclair, New Jersey, and her husband Henry acquired a group of rundown buildings that had formerly been fishermen's shacks and boat-houses on the waterfront and renovated them for use as artists' studios. She rented out the studios for what were then considered nominal fees of fifty to seventy dollars per season.

Shopping in Nantucket Wharf

Artists quickly filled the spaces to both live and work together amid simple, no-frills conditions. Many returned year after year to their favorite studios. The colony flourished, in no small part thanks to this affordable real estate.

During the disastrous economic conditions during and after the Great Depression, high summer seasons on Nantucket surprisingly continued uninterrupted—a boon to all concerned. The arts were then central to the economy, as they are today.

Less than a year after the stock market crashed, the first Sidewalk Art Sale was launched in August of 1930 by illustrator and painter Maud Stumm (ca.1870-1935). She had studied in France where open-air art markets were common. The sidewalk show ran for a string of fair weather days every August. Featuring dozens of artists from all levels of skill and divergent walks of life, it operated continuously for more than fifty years—a child of the Depression that grew to be vigorously healthy. The event consistently drew off-Island visitors.

Today Nantucket's wharves are home to art galleries, crafts and jewelry shops and restaurants, and they are a must-see when visiting the Island. The original architecture has been well maintained, and many of the buildings are original.

Plenty of Pedaling Around the Cape & Islands

Biking has always been one of the most popular activities for visitors to Cape Cod and the islands of Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard. You can safely enjoy both road and mountain biking on the many paved and off-road bike paths. Bike shops are plentiful if you need to rent a bike for adults or children. Since biking is an activity the whole family can enjoy, child trailers are also available.

Cape Cod

Throughout the Cape, you have your choice of both paved and unpaved bikeways. The most popular paved trails include:

- Cape Cod Canal Bikeway: A 7+ mile paved path along the canal between the Bourne and Sagamore bridges, providing wonderful views of boat traffic and ending at Scusset Beach on the mainland side of the canal.
- Shining Sea Bikeway: A 10.7-mile trail that follows the coast from North Falmouth to Woods Hole, winding along cranberry bogs, Buzzards Bay, and Vineyard Sound.

Cliff Pond – Nickerson State Park

- Cape Cod Rail Trail: A 22-mile paved trail running along a former railroad right-of-way from Dennis to Wellfleet. The trail has a wide unpaved shoulder on one side to accommodate horseback riding, walkers, and runners.
- Nickerson State Park Network: An 8-mile trail winding through pine forests and along ponds and lakes of this state park in Brewster.
- Cape Cod National Seashore Network: The Nauset Marsh Trail in Eastham runs 1.5 miles into National Seashore acreage, ending at Coast Guard Beach, with a panoramic vista of the Atlantic Ocean.
- Province Lands Bike Trail: A 7+ mile trail beginning at Race Point in Provincetown and running through sand dunes and forests, ending at the ocean.

While many trails are conveniently located near our Cape Cod vacation rentals, our Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard vacation rentals also provide easy access to biking paths:

Nantucket

Nantucket's terrain seems custom-made for bicycling -- never too steep and always scenic. There are over 24 miles of bicycle paths on Nantucket, and most are separated from the roadways, making for a safe ride. Nantucket shuttle buses, equipped with bike racks, enable you to easily access any bike routes. A color-coded sign system helps guide bikers around the island.

Biking on Nantucket

Martha's Vineyard

It can be a challenge to cover the whole island of Martha's Vineyard, which is almost 100 square miles! Bike paths parallel most of the major roads, and all MVTA busses have bike racks. The mostly flat "down-Island" route -- from Vineyard Haven to Oak Bluffs to Edgartown and back—covers about 25 miles. For a more challenging trip, the "up-Island" trip to Chilmark and Aquinnah is much hillier and can cover more than 40 miles roundtrip.

Paddling the Pristine Waters of the Cape & Islands

Biking has always been one of the most popular activities for visitors to Cape Cod and the islands of Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard. You can safely enjoy both road and mountain biking on the many paved and off-road bike paths. Bike shops are plentiful if you need to rent a bike for adults or children. Since biking is an activity the whole family can enjoy, child trailers are also available.

Cape Cod's many diverse bodies of water provide excellent settings for kayakers of all skill levels and offer more than 60 different kayaking routes. Out on the Islands, the harbors, coves, and ponds are popular with kayakers, as are the South Shore beaches, which offer surf kayaking.

Cape Cod

On the Upper Cape, try a relaxing paddle along the Mashpee River in Mashpee; in Wild Harbor or West Falmouth Harbor in Falmouth; or Scorton Creek in Sandwich. Waquoit Bay, a national research reserve, also offers the chance to explore undeveloped Washburn Island. On Buzzard's Bay, take in the calm waters of Pocasset Harbor near Barrett's Island or Vineyard Sound for more experienced kayakers. Coonamesset Pond is a good choice for fresh water paddling.

In the Mid Cape area, the Herring River, which runs through the 200+ acres of Harwich conservation lands, is a favorite among paddlers of all ages and skill levels. Travel upriver to the marsh to see egrets, great blue herons, and ospreys. Other Mid Cape destinations include Bass River, the longest river on Cape Cod; Swan River; Swan Pond; and Nantucket Sound. For solitude, try Barnstable Harbor and the Great Marsh of West Barnstable, taking time to step onto Sandy Neck Beach.

The Lower Cape features Nauset Marsh, one of the most productive salt marsh habitats in the world and a spectacular spot for kayaking. It is ideal for birdwatching and otter-spotting. You may also find sunbathing seals on Nauset's barrier beaches. The waters are calm enough for beginners, but the beauty brings back even the most experienced kayakers time and again. Check the tides before paddling out, however. Low tide results in vast areas of mud flats that could leave you stranded. Other Lower Cape choices are Pleasant Bay; Chatham's Oyster River; and Cliff Pond, Flax Pond, and Little Cliff Pond in Brewster's Nickerson State Park.

Up on the Outer Cape, Long Point and Pamet Harbor in Truro; Blackfish Creek, Wellfleet Harbor, and Great Island in Wellfleet; and Provincetown Harbor are all popular out and back kayaking spots. These areas are especially choice for sunset paddling.

Sea kayakers will find that Cape Cod's shoreline provides many inlets, coves, and harbors. Cape Cod Bay, Pleasant Bay, and Nantucket Sound offer open water for adventure kayaking and the opportunity to fish or view sea life such as the seals that make Monomoy Island their summer home.

There are many kayak outfitters and tour guides on Cape Cod from Falmouth to Provincetown. If you have never kayaked, most are happy to offer some instruction, but novices are encouraged to join a tour. Tours range from two hours to a full day.

South Shore and Southeastern MA

Kayaking possibilities abound on the South Shore and Southeastern Massachusetts, including Buzzards Bay and the protected harbors of Marion and Westport. Paddle inner Plymouth Harbor and you can get a great view of the Mayflower and Plymouth Rock.

Nantucket

Kayaking the waters of Nantucket offers experienced or novice kayakers many different opportunities. Nantucket Harbor offers easy paddling, with side trips into marshes with abundant bird life and along the coast to some of Nantucket's pristine beaches. Explore the many coves and even fish from the kayak and catch keeper bass or other fish.

Ocean kayaking is available across the Island. You will find good surfing waves on the South Shore for much of the year.

Kayaks are available for rent at the harbor or they can be delivered to the beach for surf kayaking.

Martha's Vineyard

Gliding along beneath the spectacular Aquinnah Cliffs, paddling in Edgartown Harbor in front of the historic lighthouse, or nighttime paddles in the phosphorescence of Menemsha Pond are just a few of the ways kayakers can enjoy themselves on Martha's Vineyard.

Make a day of it by paddling to Cape Pogue on Chappaquiddick Island or around the Elizabeth Islands, or enjoy an afternoon venturing into the estuaries and quahog beds of the Felix Neck Wildlife Sanctuary and Sengekontacket Pond.

Martha's Vineyard has half a dozen or so ponds where you can enjoy a short, enjoyable paddle, or, like Nantucket, experience great kayak surfing in the waves of the ocean-facing southern shore.

Rentals are available and can be delivered.

Tee Off on the Cape & Islands

Avid golfers are eager to enjoy as many tee times as possible before they are forced to put away their clubs for the winter months. And they know the courses on the Cape and Islands are among the premier golfing destinations in New England. Golfing during the fall offers delightful weather, no summertime crowds or traffic, and the prices are very reasonable. Many of the region's top private courses open up to non-member play in the off season. It's the perfect activity at the perfect time and in the perfect place.

Perhaps the best thing about the dozens of public and semi-private golf courses on the Cape and Islands is their diversity and proximity to Cape Cod vacation rentals. You can spend the day playing a par 72 with hard fairways, run-up shots to the greens, and a few ball-swallowing bunkers, or sneak in a short game at one of the surprisingly challenging par 3 courses scattered throughout the Cape.

The courses on the Cape and Islands are typically

set in terrain of gentle hills, fairways bordered by Cape Cod scrub pines along with some oak trees, deep fescue rough, more than a few water holes, and strategically placed bunkers. Some of the best golf architects have contributed to the high quality of Cape and Islands golf courses: Jim Fazio, working with the irrepressible Chi Chi Rodriguez, Geoffrey Cornish, Brian Silva, and Rees Jones just to name a few.

Adding to the pleasure of golfing on the Cape and Islands are the many courses that are set along the coast, offering views of Buzzards Bay, Pleasant Bay, Cape Cod Bay, and even the Atlantic Ocean.

Most golf courses and clubs offer a pro shop, driving range, putting green, and club rentals, and instruction is likely available for all levels. That all important "19th hole" is also found at most courses and clubs.

If you know members of private golf courses on the Cape and Islands, ask them about policies in the shoulder season that allow members to have friends golf as unaccompanied guests.

Cook Up the Cape & Islands Favorite Fare

For many vacationers, no vacation in Cape Cod or on the Islands would be complete without lobster. While most seafood markets will cook the lobsters for you, many vacation rentals come equipped with lobster steamers, so you can cook your own. Steam them in a few inches of water for about 20 minutes to the pound or until they are red but retain a slight amount of dark splotching on the shell. Serve with fresh local sweet corn and plenty of melted butter.

You can replicate a lobster bake, with sausage, potatoes, clams and corn, without all the work of digging a pit. All you need is a gas or charcoal grill. (See our recipe at the end of this article.)

There are two types of clams -- hard shell and soft shell.

Soft shelled clams are also called "steamers" and are found only in New England and the Chesapeake Bay. They live in "the flats," the somewhat mucky sand left behind at low tide. You'll find hard-shelled clams, also known as quahogs (CO-hogs), live in bays and along beaches in the sand just beneath the water. They are harvested by raking. Licenses are required by all towns in order to harvest shellfish.

Both types of clams can be easily steamed in an inch or so of water, if you do not have a proper steamer. It only takes a few minutes, and you'll know the clams are cooked when their shells begin to open up. Literally dig with your hands and pull them loose.

Cape Cod Lobster Bake Prepared on the Grill (serves 4)

- 4 Cape Cod lobsters, about 1 1/4 pounds each
- 4 ears sweet corn, shucked except for innermost leaves
- 2 lbs steamer clams, cleaned
- 2 lbs mussels, cleaned
- 1 lb linguica (or other firm sausage), cut into four pieces
- 12 small red potatoes
- 2 cups water
- 5 lbs fresh seaweed (or add 2 teaspoons of salt to cooking water and aluminum foil)

In a large roasting pan or steamer, place one-inch layer of seaweed or a layer of crumpled aluminum foil or on a rack.

Parboil the potatoes. Shuck the corn except for the innermost leaves.

Place lobster on seaweed or aluminum foil; arrange corn and sausage between the lobster and the sides of the pan.

Place clams, mussels, and potatoes gently over the lobster. Keep the top of the pan contents level.

Cover with remaining seaweed and add water (salted if no seaweed) over the top.

Cover the pan tightly with aluminum foil or a lid and place on preheated grill to cook. Make sure the grill is very hot.

When steam becomes visible, cook covered for 20 minutes. Check potatoes for doneness -- if they are cooked, the lobsters should be also. (Properly cooked lobsters should be red with just a slight bit of black mottling on the shell.)

Remove from heat, but leave covered for 5 more minutes.

Serve with lemon and melted butter.
